2020 San Francisco PornFilmFestival

“If you stream it, they will come!”

Pink and White Productions announces the inaugural 2020 San Francisco PornFilmFestival, set to take place August 19th through 23rd, 2020. Originally planned as an in-person two-day theatrical event, the inaugural festival has since expanded to a virtual week-long global event.

When coronavirus cases surged earlier this year, film festivals throughout the world from Sundance to Cannes to SXSW announced their cancellations. Now, many festivals are taking their events online, turning to virtual streaming on platforms like Vimeo, YouTube and Netflix. However, these options are not available to presenters who showcase adult films because most platforms specifically prohibit sexually explicit content.

With COVID-19 making in-person events and travel unsafe for the unforeseeable future, the company found the need for an online festival platform that welcomed porn, paid artists, and is also accessible to an international audience. To secure funding, Pink and White Productions ran a crowdfunding campaign for the festival platform on IndieGoGo, raising $10,813 in donations. The platform is now live and welcoming ticket sales at SFPPFF.pinklabel.tv.

In total, 90 films have been selected to screen at the online festival, which includes post-screening Q&As and a filmmaker meet-and-greet powered by the company’s streaming platform PinkLabel.TV.

A special 24 hour selection of ‘pre-show’ films available on-demand will launch the “Fore/Play” event on Wednesday, August 19th. The festival ramps up with a Filmmaker Meet n’ Greet on Thursday, August 20th followed by the Opening Film that evening, the celebrated mockumentary The Sad Girls of the Mountains, introduced by the short documentary SMUT CAPITAL OF AMERICA which recounts San Francisco’s history as the epicenter of adult film 50 years ago.

Three curated short film programs focus on humor, experimentation, and beauty as depicted within independent adult film. Two guest-curated programs include a Latin American short adult film program curated by Brazilian filmmaker and scholar Érica Sarmet with selections from Chile, Colombia, Argentina, Brazil and México, and a United Kingdom short adult film program curated by Max Disgrace of the London PornFilmFestival with films spanning the 1990's to today.

Unsurprisingly, many films address topics of sheltering-in-place and intimacy during the global pandemic. Also widely represented are films by and showcasing people whose bodies and desires include filmmakers of color, disability, and older performers. The films originate from two dozen countries, in addition to several films by creators in the San Francisco Bay Area.

The festival's Closing Film is Volunteers Wanted: or How to Live, Love, and Fuck at the Berlin PornFilmFest, a love letter to the culture found within adult film festivals. The film is introduced by Mes Chéris, a powerful docu-porn collaboration featuring Black trans male porn star Bat Boi. A repeat of select programs will be available on Sunday, August 23rd for 24 hours on-demand, for those who may have missed the live shows.

The website offers translations in over 100 languages and all live stream programs offer closed captions in English and major languages. For more information about accessibility, visit sfpff.pinklabel.tv.

Ticket sales end on August 18th at midnight.

The San Francisco PornFilmFestival seeks to showcase the creativity and craft of adult-oriented films from the Bay Area and beyond. Inspired by numerous adult film events, we want to specifically thank the Berlin PornFilmFestival for its namesake and guidance in forming this new American landmark festival. We embark on this journey to celebrate San Francisco's vibrant legacy of sex-positive film artists.
